At Basso, it's all about the ride. The perfect ride.

About creating the best riding experience for passionate cyclists like you and us.

That's our ongoing ambition since 1977, when Alcide Basso crafted his first racing frame in a small garage near Treviso.

We believe that a perfect ride can't simply be measured by speed, distance or destination. It's more about the joy of feeling one with your bike – whenever and wherever you ride.

Our carefully crafted frames still combine timeless elegance with excellent performance. For more than 40 years now, we've been building fine performance bikes that are made to compete and win.

Cycling enthusiasts all over the world rely on our long-lasting products. Join the Basso famiglia for your perfect ride!
